

HARMONIES THAT HAUNT - SONGS THAT EMPOWER

Jessica Pearson and the East Wind

SOUND

Like sirens calling from an ancient shore, the haunting three-part harmonies of Jessica Pearson & The East Wind will bind you in a timeless folkloric spell. Alchemizing roots, classic country, Americana and Celtic soundscapes, the trio spin tales of outlaw heroics, matriarchal power, resistance and resilience, and the unrelenting beauty of becoming who you are.

"This person charms without being cute, arrests without force, and brings more goosebumps per hour than a windchill. Jessica Pearson and the East Wind remind us that a mighty music show is not how many people you put on stage: it's who stands on that stage beside you." - Amanda Putz, CBC

"Jessica is an absolute joy to work with. Her empathy knows no bounds. Her heart is endearing and true. Her storytelling is gentle and fierce. She sings of truths that span generations—not only her own, but of the ones before her and for the ones yet to come—and she is absolutely captivating and empowering in her vulnerability."

- Hill Kourkoutis, JUNO Award winning Producer and Engineer

Jessica Pearson and the East Wind's live show will first bring you to the edge of your seat, and then to the edge of tears - before spilling over into joy, community, and a sense of sacred, shared power. Performing at theatres, festivals and showcases across eastern Canada, Ireland, Iceland, The UK, the USA and Sweden, JPEW has opened for The Good Lovelies, The East Pointers, Hillsburn, Blue Rodeo, Mimi O'Bonsawin and more. With an upcoming two-part album produced by JUNO-winner Hill Kourkoutis and featuring an all- women team, JPEW is rising up to offer a powerful musical battle cry against the status quo.
